Thesis/Dissertation Format Regulations

Approved at the 126th Academic Affairs Council Meeting of Semester 1 in 2010 Academic Year, December 13, 2010
Approved at the 143rd Academic Affairs Council Meeting of Semester 2 in 2014 Academic Year, March 19, 2015

- Article 1. The Regulations were established to standardize the format of student theses/dissertations, ensure the quality of student research and respond to the trend of internationalization.
- Article 2. Each department and institute may develop a special format to meet the requirements of their particular discipline but the main structure should still comply with the Regulations.
- Article 3. Thesis/dissertation should be organized as follows:
1. Front cover (including spine)
 2. Title page
 3. Thesis/dissertation validation letter
 4. Thesis/Dissertation authorization letter
 5. Preface or acknowledgement (optional)
 6. Abstract and 5 - 7 keywords (in Chinese)
 7. Abstract and 5 - 7 keywords (in English)
 8. Table of contents
 9. Table of figures
 10. Table of tables
 11. List of symbols (optional)
 12. Text
 13. References
 14. Appendix
 15. Autobiography or curriculum vitae (optional)
 16. Back cover
- Article 4. Front cover (including spine): [See Attachment 1 and Sample]
1. Front cover: The name of the university (in Chinese and English), department/institute, academic degree, thesis/dissertation title, author, advisor and date (year and month) of graduation.
 2. Spine: The name of the university, department/institute, academic degree, thesis/dissertation title (in Chinese), author and academic year of graduation.
- Article 5. Title page: same as the front cover.
- Article 6. Thesis validation letter [See Attachment 2]
1. Where a thesis/dissertation defense that passed the review of the examination committee needs to be modified, the master/doctoral student must make modifications based on the comments of the examination committee members.
 2. The student can only submit the thesis/dissertation after the advisor has approved and signed the "Thesis Validation Letter".
- Article 7. Thesis Authorization Letter: [See Attachment 3]
1. Once the graduate has uploaded the electronic file of the thesis/dissertation, the authorization letter is printed out and signed jointly with the advisor.
 2. The signed authorization is bounded with the thesis/dissertation.

- Article 8. Preface or acknowledgement The student may express his/her appreciation for the inspiration or assistance from other people or thoughts about the thesis/dissertation on this page. The preface and acknowledgement should be kept brief and concise. Up to one additional page may be used if necessary.
- Article 9. Abstract (in Chinese and English): [See Attachment 4]
1. The abstract shall contain the key points of the text including the purpose, method, procedure and conclusions of the study.
 2. The Chinese and English abstracts should not exceed one page each.
 3. An abstract in Chinese must still be attached if the department/institute allowed the student to write the thesis/dissertation in English.
- Article 10. Table of contents: [See Attachment 5] This page contains the title of each chapter and section, references, appendices and their page numbers.
- Article 11. Table of figures: [See Attachment 6] This page contains the title of each figure and their page numbers.
- Article 12. Table of tables: [See Attachment 6] This page contains the title of each table and their page numbers.
- Article 13. List of symbols: Any mathematical or special symbols used in each chapter and section are to be listed and defined here for ease of reference.
- Article 14. Page format:
1. Paper: White A4, 80 lb simili paper binding (excluding the front and back covers).
 2. Font: Chinese: 12-point, Kaiti (MingLiU and DFKai-SB) with 1.5 spacing. English: 12-point, Times New Roman with 2.0 spacing.
 3. Margin: 2.54 cm (top and bottom), 3cm (left and right); black font color with punctuation marks; no alteration allowed; page number should indicated 1.5 cm from the bottom of each page and center-aligned.
 4. The thesis/dissertation should be written in Chinese or English and double-sided printing used for environmental friendliness. One-sided printing is permitted if there are less than 80 pages (color pictures can also be printed on one side only).
- Article 15. Page numbering principle:
1. The pages before the text are to be numbered sequentially in Roman numerals (lower case) as i, ii, iii... etc.
 2. The first page of the text through the "Appendix" pages are to be numbered sequentially in Arabic numerals as 1, 2, 3.... etc. and center-aligned.
- Article 16. Table/figure references: For figures/tables extracted from the literature their source must be indicated below the figure within the text.
- Article 17. References
1. Cited Chinese/English books: Must include author, year published, title, version, location, publisher and page number.
 2. Cited Chinese/English periodicals: Must include author, title of article, title of periodical, volume, issue, date published and page.
 3. The format for all references must be standardized. The department/institute should refer to the academic format used by convention and standardize their citation format (such as APA, MLA, Chicago etc.) for all theses and dissertations; alternatively, the department may provide up to 5 different academic periodicals and allow the student to select one as the format for references.

Article 18. Front/Back cover: The thesis or dissertation should be bounded as a book. Each college must select a solid color for the cover face of the thesis/dissertation and notify all of its departments/institutes to adopt the color.

Article 19. Thesis/dissertation submission

1. A student leaving the university upon graduation should submit at least 3 identical copies of their thesis/dissertation. One copy goes to the Office of the Library and Information Services (hardback or paperback according to library requirements) for the university collection, one copy goes to the Registration Division (paperback) to be forwarded to the National Central Library for collection, and one copy is retained by the department/institute (hardback or paperback according to department/institute regulations) for reference.

2. The department, institute and degree program may ask for additional copies or an English version.
